The force that through the green fuse
drives the flower
Drives my green age.

The memory be green . . .

Learn of the green world what can be thy place
In scaled invention or true artistry.

A white plume and a green lance . . .
And a jubilant dream.

The youth in life's green spring . . .

Strong silent greens serenely lingering.

A green thought in a green shade.

Gray are all theories,
And green alone Life's golden tree.

The wearing of the green.

Lavender blue, dilly, dilly
Lavender green;
When I am king, dilly, dilly
You shall be queen.

Dedication

A certain rare dedication is necessary to mold a high school into a pattern of excellence. But mere dedication is not enough. It must be tempered with administrative talent, flexibility, understanding, and patience. Any of these qualities is enough to instill respect in others. When combined in a single person, they create a character remarkable in its scope.

We, the Class of 1970, and the past twenty graduating classes recognize that we are fortunate to have in our midst a person who possesses all of these qualities.

As a token of our appreciation and great respect, we have chosen to dedicate the 1970 Green Years to our principal, Mr. Isaiah Chase.

To the Class of 1970:

Yours is the challenge. There is so much to be done in so many fields — conservation, education, all the professions, public service — to name but a few. In your diversified interests there is much to choose for the good of all. Seize upon your choice and carry it through to the best of your ability. That is the best road to the happiness we wish for you all.

Directing a multi-faceted program adapted to the needs of the individual student

ADMINISTRATION

Always the scene of activity, the office is where Mr. Chase and Mr. Kocina direct and coordinate all the functions of the educational plant ranging from administrative tasks to discipline. They are aided by the three secretaries, Mrs. Hancox, Mrs. Van Dusen and Mrs. Way, who perform the complex chores of managing school records and handling transcripts. The office is the vital and efficient nucleus of Westwood High School.

Dr. John Tobin, Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Isaiah Chase, Principal

Mrs. Evelyn Way

Mrs. Rita Van Dusen

Mrs. Marjorie Hancox

Mr. Duane Kocina, Assistant Principal

Mrs. Celia Viall, Director of Guidance

Insuring personal and immediate counseling for all students.

GUIDANCE

Through the diligence of the Guidance Department, Westwood High graduates usually secure their future goals. Expert advice on selection of courses, careers, and colleges is only one of the department's functions. Struggling through transcript worries, the guidance counselors are still able to initiate college and career conferences. Modern equipment such as the View Deck machine aids seniors in planning their future.

Additions to the curriculum broaden students'

ENGLISH

Today one can not fully estimate the value of English. Courses as divergent as business english and advanced placement literature give a solid background to every student. Many students are now taking advantage of three new innovations in the department: Creative Writing, Journalism, and Theater Arts. The Harlequin, the school's literary magazine, is sponsored by the English teachers. Students may attend a series of plays at Boston's Charles Playhouse if they so desire, and groups often attend widely acclaimed movies at student rates.

BUSINESS

Not only students headed for business careers, but also college-bound students benefit from the courses given by the Business Department. Modern equipment and capable instruction aid students in such courses as bookkeeping, typing, notehand, and shorthand. A valuable asset to those who plan business careers is the practice and instruction found in the office practice course. The department also sponsors the Business Club.

ED.

Driver Education, under Mr. Mr. Lyman's competent supervision, has again met the demands of many upperclassmen by providing them with a class in the fundamental techniques of good driving. In accordance with Massachusetts laws, thirty hours of class instruction, six hours of observation, and six hours of driving are presented. Mr. Lyman makes good use of audio-visual aids to emphasize defensive driving, and class discussion is informative.

Viewing the world of today through the past

SOC. STUDIES

Recent international conflicts have promoted an overwhelming interest in comparative history. The Social Studies Department provides courses in Civics, World History, M.E.H., Economics, Area Studies, Psychology, P.O.D., and advanced placement courses in U.S. History and Western Civilization. This year a sophomore pilot course in Western and Non-Western Civilization was initiated. The department has continually proven its excellence by the phenomenal number of qualifying marks on advanced placement exams. The World Affairs Club is under the auspices of this department.

MATHEMATICS

The growth of technology has emphasized all types of mathematics. An extensive variety of courses ranging from basic algebra to advanced placement calculus constitute the Math Department's curriculum. Long known for its excellence, the department has been instrumental in obtaining a computer for Westwood High. A course in computer science and controlled experiments in computer-aided learning are conducted. The math team and biennial Math Olympiads are directed by this department.

SCIENCE

The ever-changing Space Age has opened new vistas of science. The traditional courses in General Science, Physical Science, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Earth Science are all offered at Westwood High. Oceanography was added to this year's curriculum and immediately proved itself a popular innovation. Laboratory periods provide students with the opportunity to put classroom theories into practice.

LANGUAGE

Due to expediency in travel, the present world seems to be shrinking; the study of a second language is becoming a necessity. Courses in French, Spanish, and Latin are made available by the Foreign Language Department. The program emphasizes all the techniques needed for fluency in a new language—speaking, reading, writing, and listening. The study of culture also plays a dominant role. Classes often make use of the language lab, an excellent facility for improving oral communication. Under the department's guidance are trips to Europe and the active French Club.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics Department includes many courses designed to give the student practical knowledge which will be applicable now and in the future as homemakers. Enjoyment and learning figures high in courses such as sewing, cooking, and family relations. A Future Homemakers Club is one of the Home Economics Department's contributions to extracurricular activities.

Mrs. Virginia Burke

Mr. Joseph Chicetti, Department Head

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Vocational and college preparatory students are given training in such areas as woodworking, metalworking, electronics, mechanical drawing, and descriptive geometry by the Industrial Arts Department. This training proves valuable in the future as well as often being a very recreational course.

Mr. Lawrence Rettman

Mr. Thomas Nelson

Stressing proficiency in team and individual sports

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Opportunities for each student to improve his physical fitness and participate in individual and team sports are provided by the Physical Education Department. Among the activities offered in class are: football, softball, basketball, track, tennis, gymnastics, volleyball, field hockey, archery, and dance. In addition, many extracurricular teams, intramurals, freshman, varsity, and J.V., are offered.

Facilities for reference work and pleasure reading LIBRARY

The Westwood High School library extends many pursuits to students. An extensive collection of art and cinema books are among the library's many resources. An annual paperback book fair is the library's contribution to a student's summer reading. Under library direction are the Library Club, the Film Club, and the Science Fiction Book Club.

Mrs. Bertille Sheffield, Librarian

Providing instruction in Vocal and Instrumental Techniques

MUSIC

The combined efforts of Mr. Markarian and Mr. Monaghan have promoted the excellence of Westwood's musical organizations. Orchestra, Marching and Concert Bands, Dance Band, Glee Clubs, Chorus, Folk Club, and Double Quartet give interested students the outlet to vein their ability. The Music Department also directs courses in music analysis. Exchange concerts are often held, and Westwood High's Choral Concerts are well-known. Annually some of the talented musicians are able to participate in the District concerts.

Mr. Frederick Wellsman, Director of Art

A Focus on Creative Endeavor

ART

The Art Department provides students the chance to express creativity while studying artistic discipline. Courses are offered both as a major and a minor subject. These courses are enjoyed immensely, and yearly several talented students profit from Mr. Wellsman's instruction for careers in art. Students' works are often displayed throughout the school. Techniques range from pottery to still life.

In Memoriam

Arthur F. Kalfopulos
February 14, 1953
February 16, 1970

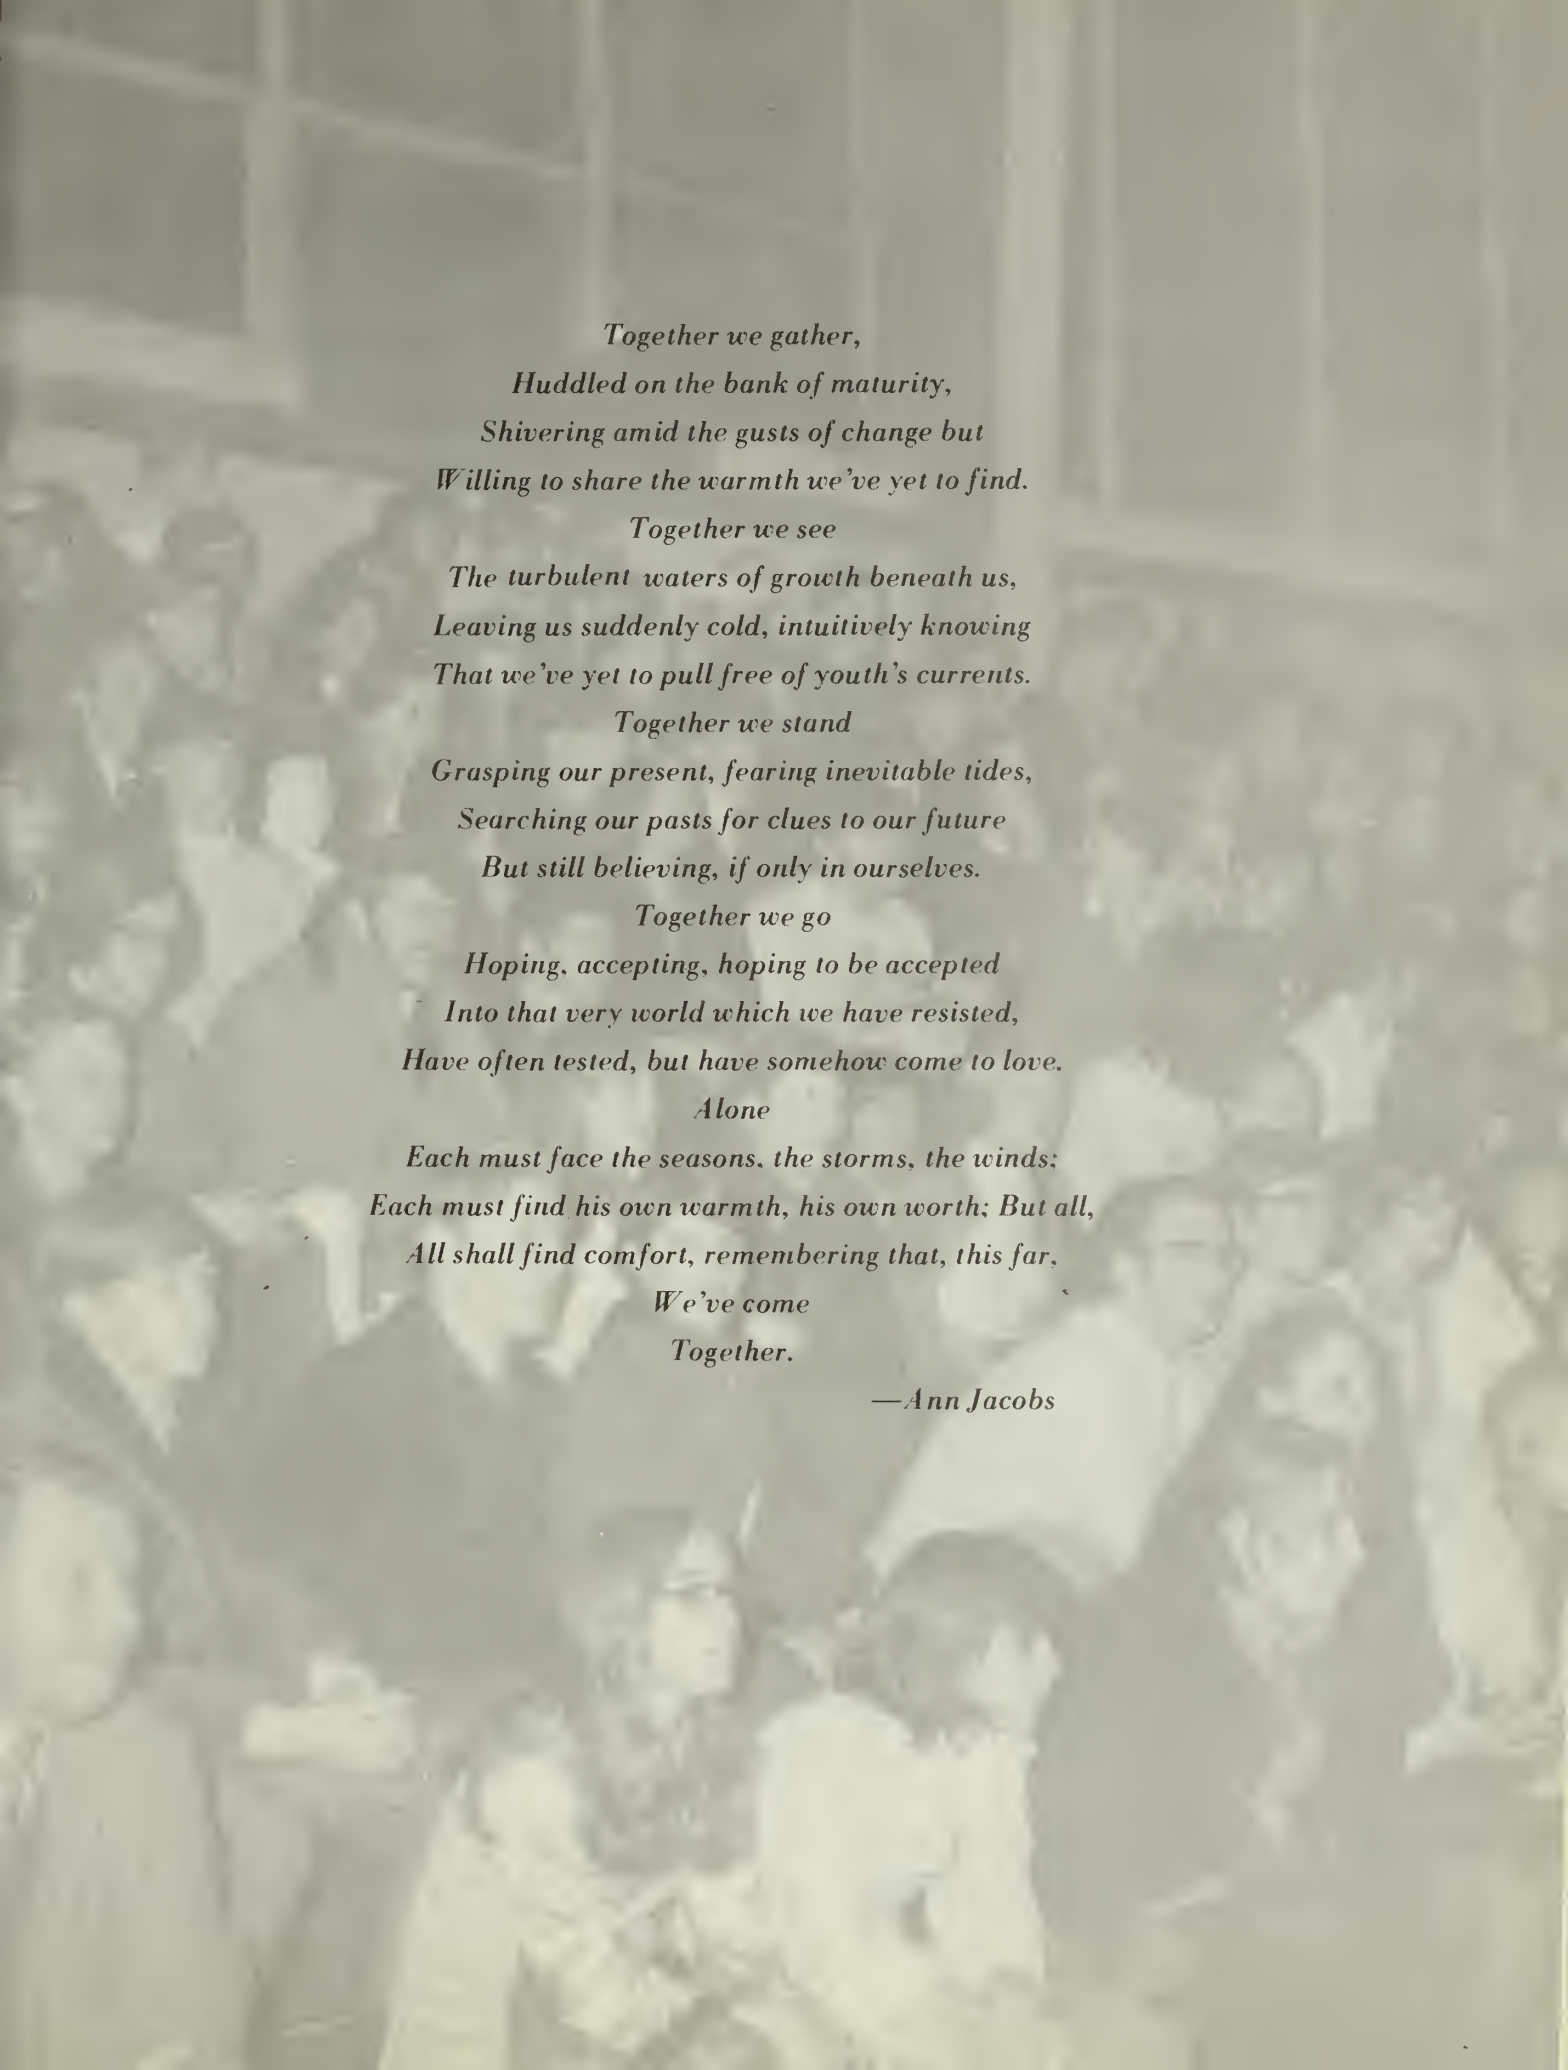

*There's a lonely sadness in sunset
With the horizon miles away
And the arms of the sky beckoning us on*

*Our eyes are fixed into the distance
Rushing to meet our dreams of glory
Yet we stop to think and look back at a happy past*

*The rich dense fog has rolled away
Revealing a golden path to happiness
Our mind like a mirror reflects our achievements and its purpose*

*As we walk on the road of fortune
We turn around; a tear drops onto the road
The Sun has opened its heart and the tear remains with us*

—Art Kalfopulos

*Together we gather,
Huddled on the bank of maturity,
Shivering amid the gusts of change but
Willing to share the warmth we've yet to find.*

*Together we see
The turbulent waters of growth beneath us,
Leaving us suddenly cold, intuitively knowing
That we've yet to pull free of youth's currents.*

*Together we stand
Grasping our present, fearing inevitable tides,
Searching our pasts for clues to our future
But still believing, if only in ourselves.*

*Together we go
Hoping, accepting, hoping to be accepted
Into that very world which we have resisted,
Have often tested, but have somehow come to love.*

*Alone
Each must face the seasons, the storms, the winds;
Each must find his own warmth, his own worth; But all,
All shall find comfort, remembering that, this far,
We've come Together.*

—Ann Jacobs

Senior Class History

How humiliating up here in the bleachers! Everyone can see we're only freshmen—Well, soon we'll be sophomores and have some under-classmen to look down on. They're reading the senior class history now. We'll never get that far or do that much . . . We never even thought we'd get through that first day with those scary upperclassmen, confusing corridors and unpredictable new teachers making us feel like we didn't belong! Well, we made it this far with only a few adjustments to our new environment. Somehow our officers got elected and gave our class active representation in the school—Mike McGovern, Nina Gigante, Deb Clark and Bruce Gaynor. We began to show our independence and enthusiasm by sponsoring our first dance and by inaugurating Westwood High's first freshman football team. The teachers respect us more now, and we even know a few upperclassmen by name! One down and three to go!

Class Day, 1968

Look at the freshmen in those bleachers! Gee, it feels good to be sitting back here in chairs, just like the upperclassmen.

The officers this year are Mike McGovern, Nina Gigante, Deb Clark and Ann Jacobs. Accomplishments included dissections and blood tests in Biology, our memorable "Grapefruit King" (Bruce Gaynor, who else?), our second successful dance, and the first underclass drama, "The Flattering Word", featuring Scott Hayward, Karen LaCerde, and Paul Wymann. Our winning sophomore scientists showed early signs of dominating next year's Science Fair. In sports, the J.V. Basketball team won the Dual County championship. We can now understand scheduling despite the "aid" of the computer.

The school presented no shocking discoveries this year, except the one that we're still underclassmen—but very able ones.

Class Day, 1969

Now that we're juniors we know that the freshmen are on the bleachers and the sophomores are behind us. That's unimportant, because we're behind the seniors now and this time next year we'll be up there . . . but that's too scary to think about now.

This was a good year for us! Our successful officers of last year kept their posts. The band had the honor of being invited to perform at Fenway Park for a nationally televised Patriots' game. We faced with terror and blank minds, spooky S.A.T.'s and awful Achievements. Nevertheless, we lived through those tests, occupying ourselves with a couple of dances, trying to stuff our treasury. Then panic! Prom! The whether-to-go-to-Wonderland-or-Camelot debate began. Wonderland won; preparations slowly got under way as we envisioned our gym "Through the Looking Glass." Problems over the color of the ceiling paper and the finding of enough teapots were finally settled, and the gym magically took on fantasyland brilliance under the scrutiny of Mr. Baker and chairmen Sarah Taylor, Deb Wakefield, and Janel Wong. It seemed impossible to us that the drab old gym could be so transformed with flowers, caterpillars and mushrooms; the end result delighted us all. Even the music was different. For the first time a rock group, the Dave Colt Group, played at a W.H.S. Prom.

But it's all behind us now, and we're almost seniors!

Class Day, 1970

Can you believe it? It hardly seems possible that our history is being read today. It all happened so fast. We almost wish that we were up in the bleachers today, just so we could think, "We'll never become seniors!" Somehow we all envy those carefree freshmen . . .

Class Day, 1967

What with Loring photos, the annual Pancake Festival, and an exciting, winning football team, under the leadership of Coach Marx, we hardly noticed the time go. Of course, we had to elect officers again; this year they are Mike McGovern, Sandi Costello, Brad Rushton and Ann Jacobs. Sharing our hectic senior life as a good student and a much appreciated friend is our South African A.F.S.'er, Sally Anne Heaven.

We showed off our scholastic achievement with a record seven N.M.S.Q.T. semi-finalists and eleven commended students. A seemingly impossible milestone was achieved—the abolishment of the old dress code. Miss Bolles courageously accepted the challenge of coaching girls' basketball. Using our abundance of senior talent as a way of enriching our class, we sponsored the lucrative Senior Class Talent Auction. Our Agatha Christie money-maker Ten Little Indians came off as an excellent who-did-it; naturally, we did it well!

All that activity didn't keep us from the college conferences (let's see, how many times did I escape gym because of those?). We managed to overcome abominable applications and top-secret-transcript worries.

Now that everything's done and said, we peer confidently at years ahead; now that everything's said and done, we gaze wistfully at green years gone.

“Through the Looking Glass”

The Grand March

After literally stepping “Through the Looking Glass” on May 16, 1969, parents and students entered the fantasy world of Alice in Wonderland. Breath-taking murals, twinkling lights, giant foliage and flower-filled teapots miraculously transformed the gym. Flanked by an army of “card-men,” the Dave Colt Group entertained. The traditional Grand March was followed by the coronation of Laura Heard as queen. She reigned, along with her court, from a “Mushroom” throne surrounded by a colorful garden guarded by a bumblebee. Mr. Baker and chairmen, Sarah Taylor, Debbie Wakefield and Janel Wong directed the junior class in presenting this outstanding prom.

Co-chairman Debbie Wakefield, Janel Wong, Sarah Taylor, and escorts.

EMILY BRENT	Mary White
SIR LAWRENCE WARGRAVE	Richard Preisler
DR. ARMSTRONG	Dan Brown

On March 12-13 the Senior Class scored a sell-out success with Agatha Christie's classic, Ten Little Indians. Miss Vanderhoek, aided by Student Director Ann Jacobs, Technical Director Tom Reynolds, and Stage Manager Paul Wyman, directed this thrilling murder mystery.

Set in an eerie mansion off the British coast, Ten Little Indians allowed talented seniors to display their abilities. Richard Preisler as the homicidal maniac, Linda Coleman and Pete Vaas as the young couple, Mary White as the prudish spinster, and Bob Cook as the blustery detective delighted the audience.

The image shows a dark, almost black, textured surface. There is a prominent vertical crease or fold on the right side, suggesting it might be the cover or endpaper of a book. The texture is grainy and uneven, with some lighter, brownish-grey areas visible, particularly on the left side. A few small, bright white specks are scattered across the surface, possibly dust or imperfections in the material. The overall appearance is that of a worn, dark material.

What is a GREEN YEARS staff?

It is people, people who think, people who talk, people who work . . . people with ideas.

Sometimes it is joking and laughing, talking about next week's basketball game and yesterday's Western Civ test, or just pretending that you're getting something done.

But mostly it is writing, writing, and rewriting, trying to be creative with a Math Department write-up or original with a caption. It is staring at blank walls for inspiration and thinking, always thinking . . .

It is headaches, worries, and problems . . . Deb and Sue desperately trying to raise funds . . . Nina and Karen searching endlessly for quotes . . . Steve and Mike snapping candid . . . Marsha and crew typing for hours.

It is needing a picture of N.H.S. before the members are chosen or discovering you just can't remember the name of that blonde girl in Field Hockey. It is late nights, H blocks of last minute work, and a 9:30 deadline met at 9:29.

A large part is relying on Mr. Flahive's unfailing good-humor and valuable suggestions. But finally after months of struggle and hard work, it is the satisfaction of accomplishment.

Mr. Flahive with co-editors Kathy Eklund and Janel Wong.

National Honor Society

On March 5, 37 new members were inducted into the Westwood Chapter of the National Honor Society. After the traditional candle lighting ceremony, President Virginia Schock presented pins to the new members. A simulated College Bowl game ended the induction program.

Thirty-three juniors and forty seniors qualified for membership by maintaining an average of 85% or better. The symbol of the society is a torch bearing letters which represent the goals of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. With the assistance of Miss Burns and officers Tom Reynolds, Sally Hamilton, and Bill Sheehan the group sponsored several activities, including the annual paperback book fair.

The role of Student Council has expanded to meet the demands of the student body. The experimental dress code was inaugurated, a Dress Code Committee formed, and the Student-Faculty Senate was established to discuss pertinent problems. A major concern was the smoking situation at the school. It was thoroughly and various courses of action were suggested.

The Council sponsored the annual Toys for Tots Drive and at the end of the year presented awards to class valedictorians. The officers and Mr. Stack deserve commendation for their work.

World Affairs Club

The Westwood chapter of the Massachusetts Junior World Affairs Council stimulated students' interest and involvement in local, national, and international affairs. The club was under the new direction of Mr. McCoy and President Linda Coleman. Vice-President Bruce Cole, Secretary Ann Wiggin, and Treasurer Nancy McCoy.

School activities included sponsoring the controversial film "Sixteen at Webster Groves" and having guest speakers. Most memorable was the informal discussion led by Senator Quinlan.

Members participated in state meetings and seminars which involved such programs as Afro-American history, NATO, and the movie "Z". On Moratorium Day officers were able to attend Senator Kennedy's speech. Plans were also made to send some students to New York or Washington D.C. with other local clubs.

A dedicated group of Francophiles, under Mrs. Gean's supervision, completely restructured the French Club. For the first time, freshmen were allowed to join and a monthly committee replaced the traditional officers. At the annual Christmas Party, members sang French carols and ate French food. Watching movies of French family life, listening to rock songs of that country, viewing the movie "Z," and visiting La Crepe were among other activities. The French Club proved itself invaluable to students who participated in the spring trip to Europe.

Westwood High's literary magazine, Harlequin, prepared a commendable selection of student writings and artwork. With the entire school contributing, Editor Mary Onorato and Advisor, Miss Dillon, coordinated the staff.

The first issue proved so dynamic that the Harlequin published a second issue.

Photographers Form Club

A new and highly successful club has been the Photography Club. Under the guidance of Mr. Snell, a slide or movie by the Kodak Company is presented each week.

The dynamic duo of Steve Otis, President, and Mike Swiek, Vice-President, has skillfully taught a basic course in photography to their fellow members. Students have learned the essentials of picture-taking and developing.

Conservation Club

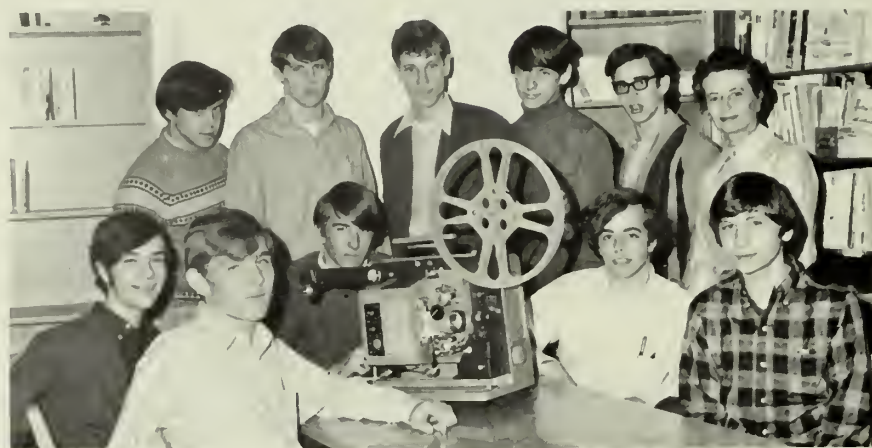

President Steve Olson, Vice-President Lee Flodin, and Secretary Gail Nicoll led the enlarged Conservation Club with the assistance of Mr. Case. In conjunction with the group an Explorers Post was organized. The Post's activities at Hale Reservation included constructing woodduck houses, studying soil conservation, analyzing management of fish and wildlife, and improving recreational facilities. Members were provided with first-hand experience in conservation while also doing worthwhile service projects.

Film Club

The Film Club was formed three years ago by Mrs. Bradley and interested students to provide an opportunity to explore the world of movies.

Films presented have included Red Balloon, David and Lisa, Sixteen in Webster Groves, Raisin in the Sun, and 12 x 12x 42. These internationally famous films are not ordinarily shown at commercial theaters and thus the Film Club offers the student body a unique chance to view them.

Another aspect of the club's activities has involved the showing of documentaries on current social problems. Black History: Lash, Stolen, or Strayed narrated by Bill Cosby proved to be a favorite.

Future Homemakers Club

The Future Homemakers of America is a nationwide organization for students interested in Home Economics. Projects include many areas in which homemakers may be involved. In Westwood the club puts on parties for the special classes at the Pine Hill School, assists in the preparation of teas, and caters the Red Cross dinner. Leading such worthwhile activities are Mrs. Richardson, advisor, President Liz Spidi, Vice-Presidents Terri Valentine and Deanne Dudash, Secretary Fran Costello and Treasurer Sheila Mulroy.

Through Club Activities

Future Nurses Club

The popular Future Nurses have again done an outstanding job of promoting ideas related to the field of nursing. Led by President Pat Callahan, Vice-President and Treasurer Barbara Hall, Secretary Dotty Barden, and advisor Mrs. Cavanaugh, the club attended Careers Unlimited during the fall. Representatives from several nursing schools gave lectures to the club. Most memorable was the visit from a colonel in the U.S. Air Force who spoke on the opportunities of Air Force nursing.

In addition, the club successfully sponsored the annual Christmas party at Wrentham State School for the Mentally Retarded.

Business Club

The Business Club, advised by Mr. Charles Flahive, is one of the newest clubs in the school. This year the club sponsored four guest speakers and made a field trip to the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company to observe office practices and procedures.

Library Club

Under the patient tutelage of Mrs. Anne Bradley, members of this club learned how to successfully manage the Library. President Nina Cocomazzi, Vice-President Linda Aldus, Treasurer Diane Badger, and Secretary Sandy Whitten planned activities which included sponsoring movies, organizing the Paperback Book Fair, and a year-end party. Besides keeping the facilities running smoothly, members often created interesting displays for the Library.

Chess Players Develop Strategy

At weekly Tuesday meetings Chess Club members dream up new moves to outwit their opponents. The Club sponsored the Chess Team which includes, Chris Poreda, Steve Olson, Eric Hildebrant, Bob Weiners, and Billy Mugridge. With a record of 4-6 the team placed fifth in the South Shore League. Under the guidance of Mr. Beurman the Club enjoyed the age-old game while also improving technique.

Astronomers Organize

Because star-gazing is a pet hobby of several students, the Astronomy Club was organized. President Richard Preisler, Vice-President Jim Vernon, Secretary Steve Olson, and advisor Mr. Keegan hold Friday afternoon meetings. Saturday nights are often reserved for watching the skies with telescopes and binoculars. During the year members sighted a comet and went to Chatham to view the eclipse of the sun on March 7.

Math Meets

Prove Challenging

The Math Team, under the supervision of Mr. Pender, qualified for the Greater Boston Math League playoffs for the eighth consecutive year. Each meet consists of five ten-minute individual written exams and one ten-minute team question in which all members participate. This year's team took an active part in league affairs by hosting the opening meet and the playoffs. Although valuable seniors will be missed next year, underclass members show great promise for the future.

Westwood Skiers

Think "SNOW"

The graceful form of a skier sailing down the slope of a snow-covered hill . . . Cold feet and warm cocoa around an open hearth in a lodge . . .

These were familiar sights to the members of one of Westwood's newest and most popular clubs. The Ski Club, advised by Mr. Reis, visited the local ski areas throughout the winter season and made a fun-filled trip to Stowe, N.H. Sponsoring ski movies for the town was a major activity. The club's purpose was to bring together students who enjoy the sport of skiing, and it didn't have to look hard to find them.

Community Praises Talented Musicians

Band and Orchestra

Westwood High School Band, under the supervision of Mr. Markarian, is best known to the townspeople for its outstanding performances during half-time at football games. President Rick Wayshville, Secretary Martha Brink, Treasurer Jim Vernon, and Librarians Karen Sjostedt and Karen Swann guided the group in perfecting musical arrangements and intricate marching routines.

During the winter the Concert Band labored industriously towards their exchange concert with Concord, New Hampshire. Spring found the musicians marching in the Memorial Day Parade and entertaining at invitational festivities.

Also under Mr. Markarian's direction, the orchestra played at traditional activities such as the National Honor Society induction ceremony and the Christmas Assembly. A successful exchange concert with Cranston, Rhode Island was the highlight of the year.

Select members of both orchestra and band demonstrated their skill at District and All-State Concerts.

Dance Band

Tuesday night practices paid off as the Dance Band was one of the best instrumental groups of 1970. Mr. Monaghan and his proteges played popular hits for local organizations and a school assembly. The group had many talented soloists and Gail Hochanadel, vocalist, contributed her special touch. Climaxing the Dance Band season was an extensive tour of Maine.

Vocalists Maintain Fine Reputation

Westwood High School's outstanding musical talents were again displayed in the Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, Chorus, Double Quartet, and Folk Club. Mr. Markarian directed the students who delighted audiences at the annual Christmas and Spring Concerts. Select members from these groups participated in the District and All State Concerts.

Musicians In Action

Majorettes Perform Dazzling Routines

Head Majorette Karen Skarinka led Westwood's marching band with precision and energy. She was ably assisted by the majorettes led by Marsha Sparks and Patty Callahan. This talented group performed complex routines with grace and ease. Providing the finishing touch was veteran twirler Nancy Martin. Nancy astounded the fans by twirling two flaming batons.

Cheerleaders boost spirit

School spirit was brought to a climax with the aid of the cheerleaders and advisor, Mrs. Bergen. Hours of practice under the guidance of Captains Debbie Wakefield and Martha Pearson resulted in many rousing new cheers.

New uniforms gave the squad a special look for the football season. The girls planned pep rallies and treated the team to a pre-game breakfast. Heightening morale at hockey games was a newly formed cheerleader group. During the basketball season, the cheerleaders were behind the team all the way—including the Tech at Boston Garden. In April the group performed ably at an Invitational Cheering Tournament.

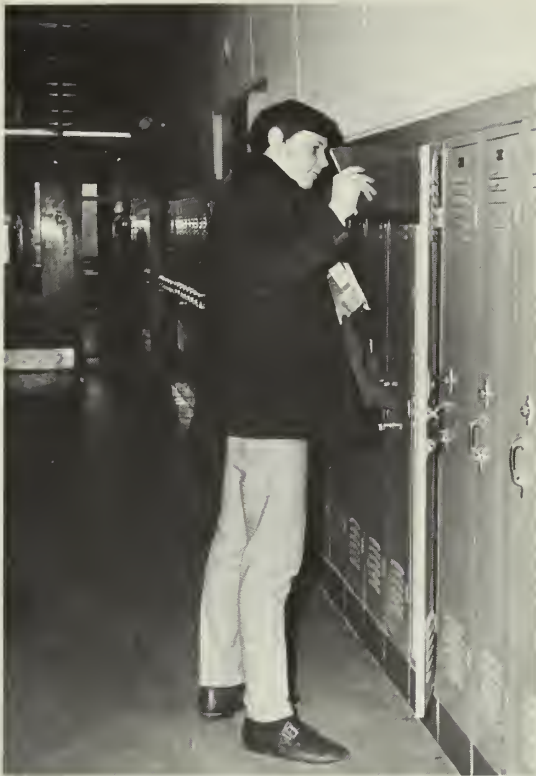

No one can dispute the fact that the dedication and enthusiasm of this year's cheerleaders helped many a team to victory.

TECH TOURNEY — HI-LITE OF SEASON

Behind Coach Thwing and a 14-6 season record, the Wolverines entered the Tech for the tenth consecutive year. After equaling a Class D scoring record (96-64) behind starters: Hart, McGovern, Waters, Vaas, and Hough, Westwood advanced to the quarter-finals to upset third-ranked St. Patrick's 64-57. Behind high scoring Captain Ron Waters and Fred McGrail, WHS squeaked past West Bridgewater to advance into the Boston

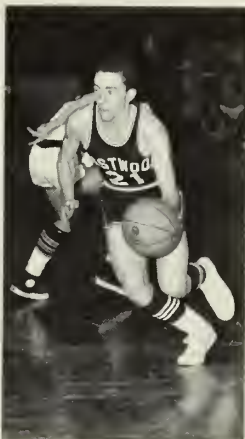

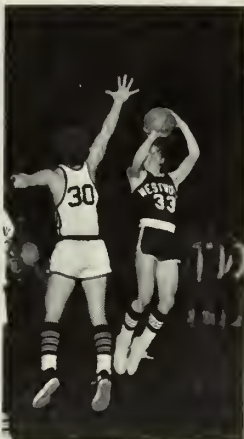

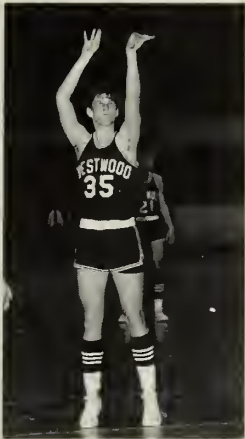

Garden and face number one-ranked Ipswich. A fourth quarter rally and late game heroics from Croak (17 pts.) and Waters (21 pts.) brought Westwood within two points until a last minute Ipswich basket brought the Wolverines to the end of another highly successful season.

The JV's finished a thrilling undefeated season ending with a 20-0 record, placing first in the DCL.

Team comes alive for fine second half

Led by Coach Jack O'Neill, Co-Captains Bob Cook and Eric Kristenson, and assistant captain Mark Spaulding, this year's hockey team finished with a record of 5-7-2 to place fourth in the aggressive Dual County League. Making up for valuable lost ice time, the Wolverines exploded for a fine second half.

Individual honors must go to Mark Spaulding who was named to the league's All-Star Team and to Bob Cook who received honorable mention.

The Ski Team was coached by Mr. Reis and led by Captain Doug Whitley. A very active season was scheduled but weather conditions hindered many of the scheduled meets and trips.

In a ten-team league, Westwood placed fifth—a fine record for such a new organization. Competitions were held in both cross country and slalom events.

Next year's team has good possibilities with the return of many promising underclassmen and SNOW!

Field Hockey

Despite the unsuccessful record of one win, two ties, and seven losses the Varsity field hockey team displayed a strong team effort. Paula McNamara and Karen Sjostedt were co-captains, aided by seniors Jayne Hudson, Katie Wiggin, Karen Gallagher, Jennifer Geary, and Lois Campenella.

The Junior Varsity led by captains Sally Hamilton and Sally Heaven, our foreign exchange student, show much promise for next year's team.

Winter Track

"The Undefeated Dual County League Championship Westwood High School Indoor Winter Track Team," is a mighty big name for a mighty great team. It's a name that they earned by being the triple crown winners of the D.C.L. Championship, the D.C.L. League Meet, and the D.C.L. Merit Meet for novice runners.

A big reason for the teams undefeated record was the excellent leadership consisting of Coach Philip Flaherty, Asst. Coach Paul Tuccelli, and Co-Captains Bruce Gaynor, and Kevin Smith.

This year's team was also a record breaking team with records broken in the two mile, mile, thousand, six-hundred, hurdles, shot put, and the high jump. The record was tied in the forty. They also put in a good performance at the State Meet, finishing in sixth place in Class D.

Capture DCL Title

The Westwood High Cross Country Team had its best season in years as it finished third in the Dual County League. Under the guiding hand of Coach Harvey Fischler and tri-captains Kevin Downey, Gary Fitzpatrick, and Kevin Smith, the team finished with a record of 6 and 6.

The team also put in good performances in the C. M. Invitational Meet where the JV finished fifth in Division Two, and in the State Divisional Meet, where the Varsity finished ninth in Division Four.

Basketball

The girls' varsity basketball team had one of its most enthusiastic seasons under the leadership of their new coach, Miss Bolles. With the help of captains BJ Weiser, and Paula McNamara, high scorer, the team had a record of six wins and three losses. This qualified them for the State Tournament.

Outstanding seniors were Lois Campenella, Katie Wiggin, Jayne Hudson, Kathy Bergen, and Nancy Lothrop.

The Junior Varsity team was led by captains Betty Glacy and Sally Hamilton. Despite their record of one win and eight losses, they displayed great team effort and much promise for next winter.
